The U.S. Department of State and the German Marshall Fund of the United States reserve the right to verify all of the information included in the application. GENERAL APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS AND TIPS

- The YTILI Fellowship uses an Internet-based application system. You will need access to a computer and the Internet to apply. You must also create a unique log-in for the WizeHive system in order to prepare and submit the application.
- You do not have to finish your application in one session. You may save your work and return to complete your application as many times as necessary. You must, however, submit your completed application by the deadline.
- Answer all questions on the application in English.
- All supplementary materials must be uploaded as PDF documents and must be in English.
- Application questions marked with an asterisk (*) must be completed.
- All answers in the application, including written responses to essays and supplementary materials, must be your own, original work. Using language copied from other past applicants' essays or using language from websites is considered plagiarism and will result in applications being disqualified.
- You may wish to review the application and its questions before filling out the application. Some applicants find it helpful to draft their responses offline (in a separate Word document for example) and then cut and paste their responses into the appropriate sections of the application.

ELIGIBILITY SCREEN

The first step in the online application is to answer a series of questions to determine your eligibility for the fellowship program. If you are deemed eligible based on your answers to the established criteria, then the system will allow you access to the full application. All responses will be verified in the initial application screen by GMF staff; if in reviewing an applicant's response it is determined that they are ineligible, then the applicant will be notified.

If you are deemed ineligible based on your responses to the initial questionnaire, then you are not provided access to the full YTILI application. GMF staff will not be available to review individual requests concerning eligibility. If you feel you received an incorrect ineligibility, you may create a new login and resubmit the questionnaire.
